Fidelity Institutional US High Yield Fund – Series 1

a sub-fund of Fidelity Institutional Variable Capital Company Fund plc

Class A Units (ISIN: IE00B413JY26)

This fund is managed by FIL Fund Management (Ireland) Limited

Objectives and Investment Policy

- The fund's objective is to seek a high level of current income and capital appreciation by investing primarily in higher yielding, lower quality U.S. bonds.
- The fund is actively managed and references the ICE BofA US High Yield Constrained Index (the "Benchmark").
- The Investment Manager has a wide range of discretion over the composition of the fund's portfolio. It may take exposures that are not included in, and that have different weightings from, the Benchmark. Therefore, there are no restrictions on the extent to which the fund's performance may deviate from that of the Benchmark. The Investment Manager may set internal guidelines which, in turn, may reference deviations from the Benchmark.
- The fund may invest in bonds (which are debt securities that pay a fixed or floating rate of interest) issued primarily by U.S. companies or by the U.S. government, preferred shares (which are shares which rank higher to ordinary shares but carry no voting rights) and convertible securities or warrants (which are bonds or preferred shares issued by a company but which may be converted into ordinary shares of the company). The fund may also invest in loans (which may include senior secured and unsecured notes and term loans).
- The securities the fund will invest in will typically be issued by companies whose financial position is troubled or uncertain and consequently these securities may provide a higher level of income.
- The fund may use currency forward contracts to enter into currency transactions with the aim of reducing the fund's exposure to exchange rate movements.
- The fund may also invest in other collective investment schemes and invest in bank deposits and other money market instruments, including commercial paper, other short term higher quality bonds and floating rate bonds.
- Income will be retained within the fund to grow the value of your investment.
- You can buy and sell units on any day when the banks in Dublin and the stock exchanges in New York are open.
- Investors should consider an investment in the fund to be a longer term investment.

For full details of the objectives and investment policy please refer to the prospectus and relevant supplement.

Risk and Reward Profile

- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The higher the category the greater potential for reward, but also the greater the risk of losing the investment. The lowest category does not mean risk free.
- The fund is in this category because it invests in lower quality bonds which carry higher risk.
- Liquidity is a measure of how easily an investment can be converted into cash. Under certain market conditions assets may be more difficult to sell.

Other risk factors which should be taken into account before investing, include:

- While investing in lower quality bonds offers you the chance to earn higher returns through growing your capital and generating income, there is a higher risk that the organisation which issued the bond will fail, which would result in a loss of income to the Fund, along with the loss of its initial investment.
- Bond values are likely to fall if interest rates rise.
- There may be circumstances in which the organisation from which the fund buys an asset (usually a financial institution such as a bank) fails to carry out its obligations, which could cause losses to the fund.
- Because the fund may invest in currency forwards which are derivatives, it could lose more than the amount invested in that derivative.
- Investing in other investment schemes may expose investors to increased risk due to restrictions on withdrawals, less strict regulations and use of derivatives.
- The failure of a manual process or I.T. system, or ineffective controls in place to monitor all processes and systems, may result in financial loss to the fund.
- The failure, financial or otherwise, of an organisation that provides services such as the safekeeping of assets or acts as a counterparty to financial instruments, may result in financial loss to the fund.

For full details of the relevant risks reference should be made to the risk factors sections of the prospectus and relevant supplement.
